Claims 1-15 are pending. Claims 4-7 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 5. The traversal, however, is not convincing since inventions I-xi are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept since the respective viruses differ structurally, functionally, pathogenically and immunologically. Modifications at issue are not interchangeable due to the inherent structure-function nexus.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 and 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Walker et al. (Journal of Virology, Dec. 1995, p. 8173-8177).

Walker et al. teach the production of attenuated virus by transfection of the poliovirus cDNAs containing the 3D-D-108/C-326 double mutation in 3D<sup>pol</sup>. The teachings of Walker et al do not differ from that which is claimed.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Baker et al. (Journal of General Virology, (1995) Vol. 76, No. 8, pp. 2081-2084).

Baker et al. clearly teach the attenuated viral vaccine having at least one pol gene modification as set forth by claim 15.
